1. Jesus Training College, Mala is a standalone teacher education institute. Though multidisciplinary in nature, the institute is providing Bachelor's degree only. As per Calicut University Curriculum, the B. Ed programme do not undertake much research/ project-oriented activities. Assignments given are either Theory oriented or Field based (College, School or society). In such cases, theoretical overview is not mandatory. Under such circumstances, Library is not subscribing any e resources. Modifications in Strategies of the institution eventually will reconsider such type of subscriptions in future. Some educational journals are available in the library, providing valuable resources for teachers and students.

While subscription-based e-journals offer extensive resources, they often come with significant costs. Many publishers and institutions offer high-quality research materials to the public at no cost, ensuring that valuable academic resources are accessible to a broader audience. To address budget constraints and ensure accessibility, our college has adopted a strategic approach by providing free e-journals available through the college website.

All these e resources are download and filed in the system provided to the students in our library.
