1. Special Lectures by Experts

Environment Day - June 5th, 2023

As part of Environment Day, the Eco-club of our college organized a seminar on June 5th, 2023, featuring Dr. C. P. Shaji, an eminent conservation biologist. The theme of the program was “Beat Plastic Pollution.” Dr. Shaji shared his expertise on the impact of plastic waste on ecosystems, emphasizing the urgent need for sustainable practices.

The session aimed to familiarize students with pressing environmental issues and raise awareness about conserving natural resources. Interactive discussions encouraged students to think critically about their own consumption habits and explore eco-friendly alternatives.

The seminar also highlighted successful global and local initiatives combating plastic pollution, inspiring students to take proactive steps within their communities. Feedback from participants was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing a renewed commitment to reducing their environmental footprint.

Overall, the event was a significant step in promoting environmental consciousness and fostering a culture of sustainability within the college.

A REPORT ON
CAPACITY ENHANCEMENT PROGRAMME

JESUS TRAINING COLLEGE,
MALA, THRISSUR

Prepared by: Dr. Jasna P. Varijan

Jesus Training College, Mala

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

There is great relevance to research in education. Apart from ensuring an in-depth knowledge over a topic, scientific and historical research papers also contribute to the world of knowledge. These journals or papers become the helping hands for the students in future guiding and helping them in research. Students need to understand the role of scientific research in society and the importance of scientific research in education as it will ultimately reward them in return. It also helps the practitioners to stay up to date with the recent developments in the field. As a part of Capacity Enhancement programme for teacher educators, Jesus Training Collge organized a Workshop on Academic Writing and Publishing.

MISSION OF THE WORKSHOP

The well-known “publish or perish” dilemma highlights the main incentive fueling the need to publish as much as possible, preferably in high impact journals. Those who fail in this competition may also miss career opportunities, research funding or other rewards. it is important for teachers in colleges and universities to publish books, etc. about their research, and that if they fail to do so it will have a bad effect on their career. In this scenario, the purpose of the programme is to give orientation to the participants in academic writing and publishing.

ACADEMIC WRITING AND PUBLISHING

09/06/2023, FRIDAY

The session discussed the types of papers and journals along with the cardinal things to be noticed while publishing a paper. The genre and structure of the paper was the chief topic of dialogue.

Session by Dr. Rajeev S.P.

The session started at 9.30 a.m. Dr. Rajeev S.P., School of Social work, Rajagiri College of Social Science (Autonomous) was the resource person for the session. To begin with the session, the resource person introduced the things to be taken care of while publishing a paper. The principal things to be noticed include the aim and scope of the research journal selected. In addition, should be taken care of its index. The session introduced two prime reference management softwares widely used in research paradigm, Medley and Zotero.

PRINCIPAL
Jesus Training College, Mala

DIFFERENT TYPES/GENRE OF RESEARCH PAPERS

The genre of academic writing determines the type of journal for publication.

Before writing a paper the researcher may solve some questions

- To whom we are writing the paper?
- Why we write this paper or article?
- How to select a Topic?

Further the class talked through the various genre present in academic writing. Foremost discussed the empirical reports, Philosophical Discussions, scoping and scientific review, case study, evaluation reports, bibliographic analysis and critical reflections. Also presented some examples for all genres and types. At the end had a detailed session on the structure of a paper. The resource person had given a comprehensive idea of the structure with a format called IMRAD which incorporates Introduction, Method, Result and Discussion followed by a brief conclusion with reference.

EPILOGUE

'Publish or Perish'

As you can imagine, the pressure to publish can be very high. Unfortunately, getting published is becoming more and more difficult, due in part to an increase in the number of academics worldwide. But publishing in journals can give your work visibility among other researchers in your field, outside of your immediate circle of contacts and colleagues. It makes your work more discoverable, as they are already being read by circles of interested readers and often have sophisticated distribution networks, placing work into libraries, organisations and institutes, and through letterboxes of readers around the world. During these days it is mandatory to share the knowledge to the world not only for the sake of the field but for the professional development of practitioners. All are in a state either you must ready to publish your research work or Perish yourself. Your choice will decide your future in profession.
